! Birth: calculated from cemetery record; but listed in muster roll 1759 as aged 19. [RL Keyes: listed in 1757 with brother John Jr. and in 1759 in Gen. Jeffrey Amherst's invasion of Canada]

! Marriage: RAustin thinks there were two wives; eldest son by first wife

! Death: R Austin notes: d. in 76 yr; Halifax Center gs-4 names: Arthur Oct 6, 1811 in 76 yr; Miss Annah [daughter] Feb 22 1812 ae 37; James [son] Aug 29 1860 ae 77; Polly his wife, July 18 1872 ae 86.

marr. Elizabeth Stone, who d. widow no age given (see her record); R Austin says she is called his "present" wife probably meaning there was an earlier one.

R AUstin notes 2 other females shown in 1790 census, and another daughter [see her notes in file] Pelham MA TH (p. 344) lists him as enlisted 2 Apr 1759 ae 19 "son of John Crosier" and again on 10 Apr 1760, also ae 19.

Halifax was settled from Pelham MA in 1762 or 1763. Hemenway says there were three brothers among the first settlers (Arthur, John and Robert) One family tradition has them coming from Montreal where they worked in a shipyard; another says the shipyard was in Boston.

Halsea Crosier says he was born in Coleraine, Ulster, Ireland, of James and Jane Crosier, and adds that three brothers, Robert, John and Arthur, and possibly a fourth, Samuel, came to America from Ireland. In another record Halsea Crosier gives the date of arrival as early as 1719, which does not fit with Arthur's date of birth. In a third record he says Arthur and his brothers came about 1755, went to Montreal and were shipbuilders, coming to Halifax about 1762-3. Built house near what is known as Morrill Knoll, about the middle of the township. After marriage of son James, both families lived in the house.

Four land records Halifax; No record original purchase of 32 acres in #38; sold Nov 17, 1780; Oct 22 1804 sale to son James 70 acres in #38 with life lease to Arthur and present wife Elizabeth etc. [note RA: present wife usually means not the first one]

Notes for Joseph Crosier Gallup:

From Rootsweb, posted by Joan Nichols, November 2008:

There is a website online, "Name Changes in Berkshire County." In 1847, Joseph Crosier Gallup, a resident of Adams, MA had his name changed to

Generation 2 (con't)

Joseph Crosier Marsdale. At the same time his four children and his wife's surname were changed to Marsdale.

His wife was Laura Jane Cone. By 1850, he appears to have another wife named Harriet; at least Laura Jane wasn't with him. Somewhere along there she married a Hodges, first name unknown.

Joseph was probably the son of Beniah and Sally (Crosier) Gallup, born in 1814 in Halifax, Windham Co., VT. The family later lived in Searsburg, Bennington Co., VT. It is said that Joseph died in Hartland, Windsor Co., VT in 1873. In 1870 he seems to be in Lebanon, Grafton Co., NH. I have not been able to find him buried in the online Hartland cemeteries.

I would like to discover why the surname was changed, and other details

One Sunday, July 1858, two boys, residents of Fletcher, went to mooring as usual, and after Sunday school endeavored to persuade some of their comrades to go with them to bathe in Lamoille river, but failing in this they two went alone together. Their parents felt no anxiety about them, each supposing the other had gone home with his friend for the night, as they were quite intimate. Monday morning their clothes were found upon the bank of the river, on the farm of Lewis Terrill, sen., just in the edge of Cambridge. Alarm was instantly given, and scores of men were soon searching the river. A few hours later their bodies were obtained. They were found lying several rods from each other. Their names were Henry Crosier, aged 17 years, and John St Johns, aged 16 years. Neither of them could swim. Tuesday P. M. their funeral sermons were both preached at the same hour and place, at Fletcher meetinghouse.

Notes for James Lewis Crosier:
Vermont phoenix. (Brattleboro, Vt.) July 18, 1873

Generation 3 (con't)

Mr. Editor : Sir - Seeing notices in our county paper about the shameful and disgraceful affair which happened in this town on the eve of July 4th, in which Wm. Smith lost his life it almost makes my blood run cold to hear my friends and townsmen speak of the affair. Many of them speak of it as if it was nothing; as if Crosier had done a noble act and did not deserve punishment, & I am ashamed of the affair as having happened in this town, and ashamed of the officers having the matter in charge. As for Wm. Smith, I have nothing to say. He was a human being and Mr. Crosier had no right to kill him unless in self defence. They both came home from Cutting Hollow where, as the papers say, they freely imbibed. (By the way, Is there no way to prevent one man dealing out death and destruction to his fellow man?) They quarreled after they got home. Smith being the stronger man of the two, dragged Crosier out of doors and threw him under the wagon which stood between the house and road.

Crosier followed Smith into the house again. Smith took him and set him in a chair, and told him to sit there or he would "go for him." Smith sat in a chair on the opposite side of the stove in the same room. The light being carried from the room Crosier reached for his gun, and as he said himself, hit Smith where he aimed. The papers say Crosier is a peaceable and law abiding man, &. For years when Crosier has been drinking his weapon of defence has been to threaten to shoot someone; and his family could tell of many a time when they have been driven from the house in fear of their lives and taken shelter at a neighbors for protection. I am, and always was, a friend of Crosier, and would not have him punished any more than to protect the community from his misdemeanors and as a lesson to others that they cannot commit the crime of murder in our peaceable community without censure or punishment. If a man breaks the law let him suffer the penalty.

Vermont phoenix., August 01, 1873

Crosier, the Halifax murderer, is now in jail at Newfane, some of his bondsmen having become suspicious of his intention to abscond.

Vermont phoenix., November 02, 1877

James Crosier, who was convicted in the Windham County Court, September Term, 1873. of the crime of manslaughter and sentenced to be imprisoned in the State prison for the period of ten years, was pardoned by the Governor on the 21th inst. The foreman of the Grand Jury at the time he was indicted, eight of the petit jurors at his trial, the assistant judges, prosecuting attorney, and other county officers, and a large number of the most respectable and substantial citizens of the county, including nearly all the members of the bar, requested his pardon on the ground of mitigating circumstances, his advanced age and failing health.

James Crosier was convicted of manslaughter in Newfane, Vt. on October 11, 1873 to serve a sentence of ten years.

The 50th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Crosier.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Crosier celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in Halifax on Dec. 1. They were married in Halifax and have always resided there. Mr. Crosier was a wagoner of Co. F, 10th regiment, Vermont Volunteers. Owing to the health of Mr. Crosier, only the children and brothers and sisters of the bride and groom were invited. On the day preceding, some of the children might have been seen wending their way to the old homestead, and by noon of the wedding day, the company was all assembled. Mr. and Mrs. Crosier have been blessed with 13 children, 10 of whom are living, six sons and four daughters. All were present with the exception of one son, who is a High school principal in Iowa. Of the 16 grandchildren, 13 were present.

After fond greetings and hearty congratulations all were ready to partake of the bountiful dinner, which was greatly appreciated by the married sons, who always enjoy "mother's cooking." The presents were numerous, both useful and ornamental, and included a purse of gold. Several appropriate songs and recitations were rendered by the grandchildren, and a poem written for the occasion was read. After wishing them many happy returns of the day, leave-takings were said, and all departed for their respective homes.

Notes for Charles Clark Bellows Jr:

His 1st wife Laura is not buried in Cutting Cem. in Wilmington; perhaps she died in Marlboro before Charles Jr. moved to Wilmington.

Charles Jr.'s farm was on the east bank of the Deerfield River where the boat launching area is now. The cellar hole is still visible in the edge of the woods to the east. Apparently he and his 2nd and 3rd wives are buried down hill and to the northeast of the house and were relocated to the Cutting Cem. when the railroad came through.

Brown, Curtis

also in: Men of Vermont: An Illustrated Biographical History of Vermonters and Sons, By Redfield Proctor, Charles H. Davenport, Levi Knight Fuller

Curtis Brown of Belvidere, son of Lybeout and Betsey W. (Ward) Brown, was born in Coventry, Oct. 16, 1825.

His father was the first Republican representative in the Legislature of the state, to which both his son and grandson have been elected.

Mr. Brown was educated in the common schools of Coventry and afterwards at Waterbury, N. Y., residing with his parents till the age of twenty-one. At that time he purchased a farm in Belvidere, and in order to pay for it went to Massachusetts, where he worked industriously in a mill for several years until he had accomplished his object. For a time he engaged in the manufacture of butter tubs and lumbering, but has given this up and now resides upon his farm.

Mr. Brown is said to be the champion bear hunter of the state, having shot or captured sixty-eight of these animals, once performing the feat attributed to General Putnam of Revolutionary times by entering a cave and crawling a distance of forty feet on his hands and knees, when with unerring aim by the light of a torch he brought down the object of his pursuit.

He is one of the best representatives of the old class of sturdy woodsmen, who have given such lasting fame to the hunters of the Green Mountains, so few of whom remain to narrate the deeds of their early days.

He married, March 13, 1852, Helen M., daughter of Edmund L. and Lucy (Hodgkins) Crozier of Calais, by whom he has had five children: Reuben J., Edmund L., Alexander (deceased), Francis B., and Nora.

Notes for William E Smith:

Gazette & Courier - Monday, July 14, 1873

(Halifax Vt.) On the eve. of the Fourth, James Crosier tried to persuade his son-in-law William Smith, from using harsh language toward his family, whereupon the younger seized the elder and threw him outrageously about the premises, while in turn it is supposed Crosier seized a gun, containing shot, and fired its contents into Smith's right breast, who immediately left the house and walked a few rods and expired. Crosier gave himself up to the authorities and was placed under $2000 bonds for his appearance at the next county Court. This sad calamity ought to teach us all, that we cannot have our thoughts too pure, or our actions too good for present peace and happiness, letting alone the future. The funeral services of the deceased were held at the Center; upwards of 200 persons were present. Mr. Fowler, the officiating clergyman, preached an impressive sermon to the living people - the audience.

Brattleboro Woman In Crosier House at Time Blaze Broke Out.

Damage of about $500 was caused by a fire in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crosier in Readsboro, Vt., Mon day night. Mr. and Mrs. Crosier had spent the day at Sherman's, two miles away, Mrs. Crosier remaining there for the night. Mr. Crosier went home and built a Fire in the living room stove, and then went to the moving pictures. Some time later, Philip Barro, in passing, saw flames through the window and turned in an alarm. Owing to the fact that Mr. Crosier had closed all doors leading to the living room, the fire was confined to that room in which every thing was destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed, parents of Mrs. Walter Sturges of Brattloboro, live in an apartment in the Crosier house, and Mrs. Sturges was with them for a holiday visit at the time the fire broke out.

Perley's father-in-law Watson DeWolfe was Postmaster before the turn of the century. It looks as if Perley was a clerk before taking that position in 1892-1907 and again in the 20's and/or 30's. At the time of Perley's death son Paul DeWolf Crosier was Postmaster in Halifax Center Post Office until that office closed. Today we have a mail route through the Center called Jacksonville Stage.

Watson DeWolfe and next son-in-law Perley E. Crosier and wife were proprietors of the General Store in Halifax Center, VT (the same building as the Post Office and birth place for Ruth Wescott, Paul DeWolfe and Clara Stacy Crosier.) Perley and son Paul D. Crosier would go for supplies by horse and wagon, an all day trip, taking many times grains to be ground. On the way they would pick up and deliver library books that were kept in the church at that time.

A Stagecoach went from Jacksonville to Brattleboro, VT and Shelburne, MA picking up and leaving passengers at Halifax Center and other Post Offices on route, so, need for fresh horses as well as repairs were provided by those offices.

Perley and son Paul provided many other services to the summer visitors and neighbors of Halifax, VT.

William O'Brien (the original spelling probably O'Brian) is listed as being born in Ogdensburg, NY. There have been no records found to verify this. It seems that this area of New York attracted many of the Irish because land was given to them for development purposes. Many Irish settlers came to this area.

William fought in the Civil War. Muster records show that he enlisted in

Generation 4 (con't)

Burlington, VT. on Sept. 15, 1862 and joined the Vermont Volunteers 2nd Regiment Company A. He was promoted to Corporal on Dec. 1, 1864 and to Sergeant on May 15, 1865. He was discharged by special order #154 and received a muster out pay of $39.98.

During the war he was wounded twice. First at the second battle of Fredericksburg on May 3, 1863 and 2nd on Aug. 21, 1864 in Charles Town, VA. (now West VA.). He had hospital leave from May to November in 1863 and from August to November in 1864. He recovered from his wounds in the hospital at Brattleboro, VT.

He fought under Major General John Sedgwick, Brigadier General Albion P. Howe, Col. Lewis A. Grant and Col. James H. Walbridge. According to accounts written by Albion Howe of the day May 3, 1863, the regiment first came upon Cemetery Hill in Fredericksburg without resistance. It was from this point that they proceeded to Mayre's Heights and encountered the enemy. It is assumed that this is where William O'Brien was wounded in the right thigh. The battle here against the Confederates was successful.

Death came early at the age of 48. His death certificate states that he was murdered. The account of his death is written in the July 21, 1881 edition of the Bennington Banner. His death was the result of a fight while racing his horse and wagon. He is buried in the Crosier Cemetery on Rt. 8 in Searsburg, VT.

Killing of Wm. O'Brien

EXCITEMENT IN BENNINGTON---DETAILS OF THE FIGHT---THE POST MORTEM EXAMINATION---ARREST OF THE MAN SUPPOSED TO HAVE DONE THE DEED---ETC.

Early on Tuesday morning it was known here that in some sort of a fight at the west end of town Wm. O'Brien of Searsburgh had received injuries which had resulted fatally. The unfortunate man died about 7 o'clock after a night of unconsciousness, during which time he was well cared for at the Stark House. When his critical condition was known a messenger was dispatched for his wife, the messenger leaving here about 11 p.m., and returning Mrs. O'Brien reached the death bed of her husband at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, a short time before death came. After the post mortem had been held, the body was taken to Searsburgh for interment. Deceased was a man 48 years old and leaves a wife and several children, the latter grown up to man's estate. He had been a prominent man in his town, had represented it in the Vermont Legislature, had held various important town offices, first selectman, collector, etc., and was engaged in the lumber business. He was a partner in this with Mr. S. F. Harris of this village. The occasion of his visit to Hoosick Monday was on account of some lumber sold for Geo. W. Knapp, as an accommodation to the latter, after being refused the bill of lumber by the other owners in the business. As we have the story the money for this lumber of Knapp's did not come and O'Brien and Knapp went down for it, O'Brien driving his own team. They both had drank liquor before leaving Bennington in the morning, and they chased John S. Lyman who had a spirited horse before a skeleton wagon half way to North Bennington, and by their shouting almost caused his horse to run away. O'Brien was driving a rather fast pair. What led to the fracas is best told by the substance of an interview with Officer Robinson, who, with Knapp, went down to the scene on Tuesday afternoon. They agree in saying that the exact location of the fracas is about four rods west of the cider mill of Mr. Brimmer, on the Hoosick road, and in this town, O'Brien, Knapp and Keefe had all been at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., but the two former had not met Keefe there. Keefe came to Hoosick Corners by what is called the river road, he crossed the long bridge and came on towards Bennington. O'Brien and Knapp came by what is called the hill road, to the corners, stopping at Babcock's Inn. They had something to drink there took their team and started for home. Keefe was then ahead---out of the Corners. O'Brien and Knapp came through Hoosick Village with their team on the run and O'Brien was shouting. They drove up to Keefe who started his horse into a run. Both teams, Keefe leading, overtook a young man named Sanford Rudd, who was riding a colt. Rudd heard the others coming and tried to get out of the way, but the colt shied into the road again. The thill of Keefe's wagon struck Rudd's colt, and then he [Keefe] took his whip saying to Rudd: Shall I strike him and put him out of the way for you? Rudd answered: ?No, don't you strike my horse. I'll take care of him. Rudd then let the colt run to get away from the party, and turned into his father's yard, who lives near the John Armstrong place this side of Hoosac Corners. O'Brien run his team past Keefe at the Percey place this side of Hoosac. Both teams were then on the run, and were kept on the run until they came to the hill near Brimmer's cider mill. Then Knapp's hat blew off. O'Brien stopped his team and Knapp went back after his hat. During this time Keefe drove up alongside O'Brien's team, and struck severely with a whip, one of O'Brien's horses. When Knapp rejoined O'Brien, the latter says: This man, referring to Keefe, has struck my horse, and I don't allow any man to do it. He then handed the lines to Knapp, jumped out of the wagon, saying: I'll strike his horse, and in striking Keefe's horse, broke the whip. O'Brien then says to Keefe: ?I want you to pay for this whip. It cost me one dollar and a half, and you are the cause of breaking it. Keefe says: I did not break your whip, and I shan't pay for it. O'Brien then replied to Keefe: If you will get out of your wagon I'll take the price of the whip out of your hide. Keefe led his horse back to the rear, some ten or fifteen feet, turning his horse around facing the west, and drove away some six or eight rods. O'Brien turned as if to follow Keefe, and said: I'll be d---d if I'll follow up a coward to lick him, then turning back walked towards his own team a few feet. Turning around again O'Brien saw Keefe had turned around his wagon and was again approaching. O'Brien then walked to the west some forty feet and met Keefe. The latter stopped his team and got out of his wagon, took hold of O'Brien by the coat collar and jerked him on to the ground. Knapp says he didn't see Keefe kick O'Brien, the first time, but from the appearance of O'Brien he must have been kicked in the mouth and eye the first time. Knapp, who was with O'Brien's team, told them to stop their fighting and come on about their business. Keefe then let go of O'Brien, and the latter got up. O'Brien then clinched into Keefe, and was thrown down by the latter, and Knapp saw Keefe kick O'Brien the side, O'Brien calling out George! George! so loud that Charles Brimmer, who lives twenty rods from the road, heard the outcry. Knapp then calls back again saying not to kill the man. At this Keefe let go of O'Brien, entered his buggy and drove toward Bennington. O'Brien then boarded his wagon and drove along with Knapp towards Bennington. Although O'Brien was bleeding badly about the face, he did not complain about being hurt in the side, until this side of the Hubbell place, at the watering trough. There he said: I have a terrible pain in my side, and am going to drive to Dr. Morgan's in Bennington as quick as I can. Morgan was not at home, so they drove to Dr. Bennett's who examined O'Brien and said there was one rib broken. After a plaster had been applied (O'Brien went) to M. E. Burgess's livery stable. In a short time, while there, O'Brien's side began to pain him greatly. Dr. Bennett was again called, and administered an injection of morphine into O'Brien's arm to quiet the pain. Dr. Bennett then instructed Knapp to get O'Brien to the hotel, and to bed as speedily as possible, which was done about 10 o'clock, p. m. William H. Keefe was found at Valentine's mill at work and was arrested about 11 o'clock Tuesday. He made no resistance. He was arraigned before Judge Thomas White, gave his age as twenty-six, and the complaint of Town Grand Juror Meacham read to him. He did not plead, but was placed in custody to await the justice inquiry, then in progress under the direction of the Selectmen. The examination of Keefe was set for Wednesday at 2 p. m, but was adjourned until that hour to-day. The Troy papers last evening contain this history of Keefe:

Generation 4 (con't)

Early and Later Life

Keefe was born in Cahoes, in that portion of the city bearing the euphonious appellation of Skunks? hollow. He is one of those anomalies of human nature, a thoroughly bad offshoot of a respectable family. His escapades have been numerous, and the police records of his native city show that he has been under arrest at least twelve times, twice for larceny and the remainder for various offenses, principally for being drunk and disorderly. He has never been imprisoned, as his fines have been paid by friends; the last one, a fine of $50, being paid by subscription. He is a tall, muscular man, six feet two inches high, and weighs about 175 pounds. Keefe always had an idea that on account of his size and strength he would be a success as a fighter. It was about three years ago that he had a prize fight on Van Schaick Island with the notorious ?Curley? Bowes. A large number witnessed the fight and Keefe was accorded a fair show but in the end he was soundly thrashed by his smaller antagonist. To show the heartlessness of the man it is only necessary to instance that about two years ago while on a spree Keefe went to Schenectady and telegraphed to his wife that he had drowned himself. Keefe has never done anything to support his wife and two children, although he might have done so comfortably. Some of the old members of the Cahoes police force, when told of the crime that Keefe had committed, remarked that they had always expected it, as they considered him a very dangerous man when under the influence of liquor. The family of Keefe feel the situation keenly, although they hope that it will be shown that the plea of self defense is a good one.

There is a story of the arrest of John Healy of North Bennington, by the New York authorities for being accessory, but there is a mistake of some sort about this--all our information tending to corroborate the account above given. Before the inquiry was begun Doctors Morgan, Bennett and Potter made an examination of the body of O'Brien.

Post Mortem

Found that the tenth and eleventh ribs were broken entirely off near the middle of the cerroe, about 4 1/2 inches from the spine on a straight line, 6 1/2 inches on a curve, (long piece 6 1/2 inches, the short one 3 inches), left lung congested extending through both lobes. The lower lobe of the left lung was lacerated near the base, about even with the tenth rib.

There was a blood-clot in the left ventricle of the heart; contused wound at lower point of sternum. There was a contusion of the lips and laceration of the alveolar process. There was a contused wound over the left eye and on the left side of the nose. Left eye and lips completely discolored, and there was a slight-discoloration under the right eye.

The examination develops nothing new. From the testimony of M. E.

Burgess is gathered what O'Brien said of the affair. We copy a part:

WHAT O'BRIEN SAID: He said, I wish you would take care of that team. I asked what is the matter with Bill. He said, the d--m fool, has been down to Hoosick, got into a fight, and got all knocked to pieces. O'Brien walked in the barn alone. As he walked upon the platform he said, How are you Merritt? and he put out his right hand and shook hands with me. I said, Hello, Bill, are you getting your name up as a fighter? He said, Yes, but I got the worst of it this time. He spoke in a joking manner, and said, Is my team all right? I went to supper, and then went back to the barn about 8 o'clock. O'Brien was lying on the lower bunk in the office. He was halloing nearly every breath he drew, saying: Why don't you do something for me? I am in a good deal of pain. I then spoke to one of my men and told him to go after Dr. Bennett, and give him something to ease him. Some one said that they had sent after Dr. Bennett. You could hear him hallo ten rods easy. Dr. Bennett came, and O'Brien said what have you been doing to me. I am in such awful pain; you had better give me something to ease me. The doctor took hold and felt of his pulse, and said have you been spitting any blood? No. I have not been spitting any blood, said O'Brien. The doctor called for a teaspoon, a cup and some water. Then followed the injection of morphine. The money affairs are thought to be all right notwithstanding stories to the contrary. It is known that of the amount of the bill of Knapp's lumber sold to one Allen, a balance of $138, was collected by O'Brien on Monday on the trip. Mrs. O'Brien was paid this amount by Knapp after the death of O'Brien. Mrs. O'Brien is the daughter of David Crosier of Searsburgh, one of the most prominent men the town has ever known. Keefe has a wife and two small children. O'Brien is not what is called a drunkard, but of late has had an occasional spree. Probably all three were intoxicated and the whole affair is one of the most suggestive temperance lessons this town has had for some time. O'Brien and Keefe were strangers and never saw each other before. The inquiry will probably be concluded this evening. The examination of Keefe was postponed again until tomorrow morning. The funeral of Mr. O'Brien was held from his late home in Searsburgh yesterday afternoon, a large concourse of his friends and neighbors attending, and which shows the respect and esteem in which he was held in the neighborhood which he lived. Keefe retains a discreet reticence since his arrest. Before the arrest and before he knew of the probable results of the row, he talked freely with his fellow operatives in the mill and said that he had been in a row the day before, and had to lick a man, and had done it harder than he meant to, ? and other words to the same effect. We understand that the story of Keefe told did not differ materially from that of the other parties, but of course these admissions will not count in evidence. To show our people how the matter is looked at in the State of New York we copy these remarks of the Troy Press upon one point: There is a disposition among some people at Bennington to treat the matter as merely a drunken row and that O'Brien was the aggressor. Even if he had been it would not justify such brutal treatment. But Keefe admits he got out to fight O'Brien because O'Brien challenged him. That of course destroys the plea of self-defense, according to Judge Wheeler is, that permission is not given to continue to pound after the assailant is overpowered. That the one assailed must desist at a point when danger ceases. Applied to this case, the kick which broke the ribs of O'Brien was not given when the body was in an upright position but when down, because the post mortem showed the bone broken squarely off, not slantingly as must have been the case if O'Brien was standing or stopping. SAMUEL GARDNER FULLER.

Samuel Gardner Fuller, sexton of the Congregational church and cemetery at Dalton. is a representative of the Fuller family of English origin that was established in America about the middle of the eighteenth century. The early representatives of the name were sea captains, and William Fuller, grandfather of Samuel W. Fuller, was master of a vessel engaged in trade with the West Indies and sailing from the ports of Salem and Boston. He had several children, including Spencer Fuller, who settled at Whitingham, Vermont, and afterward lived in various places in Windom county, that state. In his earh^ years he learned the shoemaker's trade, which he followed for a long period. He engaged in the manufacture of shoes, but during- the last years of his life devoted his attention to agricultural pursuits. He married Maria Fleming, of Hinsdale, New Hampshire, and they had eight children : Elmira, born in 1837, died at the age of three years; Samuel G., born in Halifax, Vermont, May 24, 18-10; Hiram W., born February 8, 1842, now lives in Halifax, Vermont; Harvey A., born March 10, 1844, is a resident of Pittsfield, Massachusetts; Jerua, born in 1846, is the wife of John F. Gallup, of Dover, Vermont; Jerusha, born in 1849, is the wife of Gordon Cutler, of Palmer, Vermont; Evelyn, born in 1853, is the widow of Addison Eams, her home being in Halifax, Vermont; and Willard, who died at the age of nine years.

Samuel Gardner Fuller, of this review, was born May 24, 1840, in Halifax, Vermont, and in his early boyhood attended the district schools. He assisted his father in the manufacture of shoes, and at the age of nineteen years started out upon an independent business career. He was employed at various places until the outbreak of the Civil war, when he enlisted for nine months' service as a member of Company F, Sixteenth Vermont Regiment, at Searsbury, Vermont, in 1862. When his first term of service had expired he immediately re- enlisted in June, 1863, and became a member of Company E, Sixth Ver- mont Volunteer Infantry, serving with that command until the close of the war. He was in the army for almost three years and gives some very graphic descriptions of some of the battles in which he participated, inchiding- the engag-ements at Gettysburg, the Wilderness, Cold Har- bor. Slaughters Pen. Petersburg. Weldon Railroad, again at Petersburg and in the siege of Richmond. He was never taken prisoner and was only slightly wounded on three occasions. He was one of fifty men who volunteered for skirmish duty at the battle of Weldon Railroad, and was the only one of them to return alive. Following the close of the war Mr. Fuller returned to his native state, and two years later was married on the 2d of April, 1867, to Miss Anna P. Crosier, of Searsbury. Vermont, the wedding taking place in Colerain, Massachusetts.

He afterward lived in Halifax. Vermont, for a short time, thence removed to Wilmington and afterward came to Dalton. Here he drove the mail wagon and conducted an express business for about five years, while his wife conducted the Crane Company boarding house in Dalton. Two children have been the issue of this union : Minnie Julia, born at Reedsboro, Vermont, April 21, 1870; and Samuel Scott, born in Searsbury, Vermont, October 22. 1873. He died in Dalton, July 15, 1887, and his loss was deeply mourned by his parents and many friends. In his later years Mr. Fuller has been sexton of the Congregational church and cemetery, and his wife and daughter are employed in the paper mills of the Crane Company. All are members of the CongTegational church and take an active part in its work. Mr. Fuller is a stanch Republican in politics. He and his family occupy a handsome home in the town of Dalton.

Notes for Archibald Byron "Archie" Crosier:
Vermont phoenix. (Brattleboro, Vt.) May 04, 1894,
Mrs. Archie Crosier was assaulted, evidently with murderous intent, at her home on Jackson street at North Adams one day last week. Two women called at the house and asked for Mr. Crosier, and when told that he was at work they said that they would do their business with Mrs. Crosier and entered the house. After talking about church matters they asked for a drink of water, and while one of them was being served Mrs. Crosier was pounced upon, her assailants attempting to strangle her. The last she heard her visitors say were the words: "She will never trouble us again." Mr. Crosier on returning from work found his wife asleep, as he thought, on the lounge. He soon found a note poorly written saying: "Leave her alone, she will sleep. A. Crosier, jealous." He saw then that his wife was not asleep, but unconscious and bearing marks of foul play. A doctor was sent for and succeeded in rousing her. Mr. and Mrs. Crosier are at a loss to account for the deed. Mrs. Crosier remembers a woman accosting her on the street who said to her that Crosier could be seen at an unseemly hour in company with another woman. The police are working on the case

SHOT IN THE NECK

Alonzo Crosier Sought to End His Life With a Bullet

Was Suffering from Nervous Collapse Recovery and Restoration to Normal Condition Expected.

Alonzo Crosier, son of Dudley Crosier of Guilford, shot himself with suicidal Intent in front of the home of James R. LeRay In West Brattleboro Sunday afternoon. He fred live shots, but only one took effect and the wound from that, which ls In his neck, is not very serious. Crosier was taken to the Memorial hospital, ttnd he ls making a good recovery.

The failure of Miss Jennie R. LeRay to encourage his attentions was the cause of his rash attempt, but It ls thought that the shock and pain of the wound has turned his thoughts in another direction and that he will bo In a more nearly normal frame of mind when ho recovers. Miss LeRay's

Indifference to him preyed upon his mind, and he had been despondent and very nervous. Crosier went to the LeRay home shortly after noon and stayed about the house and in that locality some time. As he was not asked to come in he went about 60 feet from the house and in plain view from the windows began to shoot at himself, falling to the ground nearly in the middle of the road. Mr. LeRay's family were alarmed greatly as they believed the young man came with the intention of shooting Miss LeRay and possibly other members of the family. They claim that he had threatened on several occasions to shoot Miss LeRay. They feared that he might turn his weapon on them if they went out to him and so they sent to Brattleboro for assistance.

Telephone messages were sent to First Selectman John Galvin, to Dr. Thomas Rice, who had been attending Crosier, and to Deputy Sheriff Myron P. Davis, Mr Galvin understood that the man was dying or dead and he notified Dr. Henry Tucker health officer, also Arthur P. Carpenter, attorney for the town. They secured an automobile and went to the scene as quickly as possible. Dr. Rice was ahead of them and Deputy Sheriff Davis drove in a few minutes later. Mr. LeRay and his two sons, Frank and Harry, were at home at the time. Before any help arrived Crosier had arisen from the road and walked away. Mr. LeRay thought he had gone into one of the barns and that he was lying in wait for his would-be captors. A search of the barns, so exhaustive that pitch forks were thrust into the haymow in an effort to locate the man, failed to reveal any sign of him, and no bloodstains were found about the place. The country was searched in every direction for some distance and neighbors were aroused to aid in the search. Finally more than an hour after the shooting, the young man was seen walking up the road in company with Thomas Doyle, a neighbor who was assisting in the search. His face was covered with blood and he was weeping hysterically. He had been found in a pasture about half a mile away. He did not want to go into the LeRay home, nor were they anxious to have him inside. After some delay the two physicians took him into the kitchen, where an examination was made and his wound was dressed. Dr. Rice took from the young man's pocket a 22 calibre revolver with a six inch barrel. Crosier was very willing to give the weapon up and asked if any harm would come to the fellow who loaned it to him. "It was all right," he said. "I got it for a good purpose." The weapon was turned over to the authorities. After the wound was dressed the question arose as to what should be done with the patient. He appeared to be in a state of nervous collapse and he sobbed and shook hysterically. Deputy Sheriff Davis wanted to place him under arrest, but it was decided, to take him to the hospital and give his wound the best possible care, leaving further steps which might be taken to be determined later.

Dr. Rice knew of Crosier's condition, having treated him during the past few months. He said that there was no question but that Crosier was sane and that it was simply a case of overwrought nerves. He said it was not a case for the Retreat in any way, and he felt that the shock of the wound might assist in restoring the young man to a normal condition of nerves.

Crosier has worked on the LeRay farm and more recently in Howard & Yearly's stable. He has good habits, and he can not be deemed a desperate or dangerous man even by the wildest stretch of the Imagination. All who know him well believe that the shooting was the result of a nervous breakdown. He once told Dr. Rice that he feared he might do something desperate. He declared that he never threatened to shoot Miss LeRay or anybody else and that he had no wish to harm any one.

April 11- A serio-comic attempt at suicide took place yesterday in West Brattleboro when Alonzo Crosier, 25 years old, the son of Dudley Crosier of Guilford tried to take his life with a 22 calibre revolver.

Crosier had been employed for several months as a farm hand on the place of James R. LeRay in Meadow Brook road in West Brattleboro. While working for Mr. LeRay he became infatuated with his employer's daughter, Miss Jennie LeRay. It is said his affections were not returned, and Crosier had been brooding over the matter.

Yesterday afternoon about two o'clock, Crosier armed himself with a 22-caliber revolver and went to the LeRay home. He called at the door but his knocks were not answered. Then he went out into the road, about 50 feet from the house, and began to walk back and forth, and, according to the stories of the LeRay, threatening everyone in the house with instant destruction. Finding this useless, Crosier then turned the weapon on himself. For the next few minutes the residents of West Brattleboro were treated to a bombardment, Crosier firing a fusillade of shots at himself in an effort at self destruction, twice emptying the chamber of his firearm. He was extremely nervous, and that fact probably accounts for the slight damage which he did to himself, for only one bullet took effect, this shot passing completely through the fleshy portion of his neck. This was the last shot that he fired.

He fell in the road and the LeRays telephoned to Brattleboro for the police.

Physicians were notified and they hurried to the scene, but Crosier disappeared. Search parties were organized but it was not until two hours later that they found him exhausted and covered with blood about 30 rods from the spot where the shooting took place he was removed to the Brattleboro Memorial hospital. He will probably recover.

Vermont phoenix., April 22, 1910, Page 6

Alonzo Crosier, who attempted to commit suicide in front of J. R. LeRay's home last week, is visiting his brother in Greenfield. He was discharged from the Memorial hospital the latter part of last week as he was well on the way to recovery, and immediately afterwards he went to Greenfield. About the time he left Brattleboro proceedings were being instituted against him to either place him in the Retreat or in Jail. A complaint was made to State's Attorney C. H. Williams and tentative arrangements were made to have him examined as to his sanity. The proceedings were cut short by the information that Crosier was in another state. He was at liberty to go as he was not placed under arrest when he was taken to the hospital

Mary Joy Stuart Bergstrom died at the Martha's Vineyard Hospital on Feb. 4, shortly after celebrating her 93rd birthday. With her ever-present grace and dignity, she died peacefully surrounded by beloved family and friends.

Mary Joy Crosier was born Jan. 22, 1915 at her grandparents' house in Oak Bluffs.

Shortly afterwards her family returned home to Philadelphia, Pa. They later moved to Middleboro, where her father, Frank Crosier (also known as Crozier), was employed as a physical education supervisor for teachers' colleges in Massachusetts. Joy returned to spend many years on the Vineyard as a summer person and later in life made the Island her year-round home. Joy's role as a native, a summer person, and a year-rounder gave her a special perspective on Island living.

One central theme in Joy's life was art and theatre. Her grandmother, Laura Sinclair, was an accomplished artist and her mother, Enid Sinclair Crosier, studied drama at the Leland Powers School in Boston, which Joy later attended. During high school, Joy spent summers acting at the Rice Playhouse Children's Theater in Oak Bluffs. Later she acted in a stock company in Boothbay Harbor, then with a professional stock company at the Starlight Theater in Pawling, N.Y.

In the early 1940s, after the birth of her first two children, Bruce and Craig, she began a business producing hand-painted bathrobes which she sold through the Women's Exchange in New York. The bathrobes were very popular, featuring scenes from children's books and other custom artwork. Her line of men's robes depicting game birds and hunting scenes were sold through Crossroads of Sport, an upscale sporting accessory store. Her third child, Sandra, was born in 1954.

In 1962, Joy returned to live on the Vineyard year-round with her children Sandy, Craig, and Bruce. With the exception of a few years spent in North Conway, the Island was to become Joy's permanent home. Here she quickly became involved with the growing local theatre scene, and continued her robe business.

Joy's classic beauty, along with her charm and dramatic flair, made her a natural for the theater. As long-time friend M.J. Bruder Munafo, producer and artistic director of the Vineyard Playhouse, said, "Joy was a luminous actress; a genuine "grande dame" of the theatre."

She loved all aspects of theater and was an accomplished director, costume designer, enthusiastic audience member and an inspiration to many.

In 1972, she became involved with what was to become the Island Theater Workshop. Writer and director Mary Payne was staging a huge production of her original play And He Shall Reign about the last days of Christ. At the last minute, the role of the Virgin Mary needed a substitute actor. Joy was a quick study; she learned the lines, created a costume in record time, and was ready to perform on opening night. Thus began her long relationship with Mary Payne, Lee Fierro, Nancy Luedeman, and other members of the workshop. One of her favorite roles was Madwoman of Chailot. In the late 1970s, Joy was one of the founders of Theatre Arts Productions and directed and appeared in many of their shows.

Generation 6 (con't)

Sandy often played a major role in many of these productions, including the musical Jacques Brel Is Alive and Well and Living in Paris, which was directed by Joy. Joy's collaborations with colleague, friend and director Steve Petruska resulted in many successful performances including The Fantasticks and Godspell. Over the years she also appeared in many shows at The Vineyard Playhouse, where she also served on the board of directors. One of her most recent and memorable roles was the Woman, in Lovers, which Joy performed two different times with two of her favorite leading men, Frank Neil and Don Lyons. Her last Island appearance was in a 2005 staged reading of Sadie and Ida, directed by Leslie J. Stark at the Tisbury Senior Center.

Joy was a member of the Unitarian Church which is where she met Robert (Bob) Bergstrom, whom she married in 1994. They spent several happy years together, leading active lives which included travels to China and Scotland. They were involved in several book groups and activities through the Island senior centers, and shared a love of lively conversation.

In 1995, in her 80th year, Joy lost her beloved daughter Sandra to breast cancer, followed by the death of her husband Bob in 1999.

Sandy's seven-year-old daughter, Emily, left in Joy's care, became a blessing. As Joy moved into the role of raising Emily, she found solace, inspiration, and renewed energy for life. Together they shared twelve special years, growing and learning from one another despite their age difference of 74 years. Joy once counseled that even in the darkest moments one shouldn't despair, for you never know when you may be needed by another.

Joy and Emily fulfilled each other's needs despite the tragic loss of a daughter and a mother. One common connecting thread was creativity. Joy delighted in being both a mentor and fan of Sandy and Emily's artistic endeavors. Emily has said her artistic abilities "run in the family." Notably in 1999, Joy and Emily appeared together in the Vineyard Playhouse production of Faith, Hope, and Joy, a play by Georgia Morris written in memory of Sandy and directed by M.J. Bruder Munafo.

Joy always led an active life. Until quite recently she continued to participate in theatre, book groups, and activities at the senior center. She loved a drive to Menemsha and a trip to the beach. Attending Emily's school performances, lunch out with friends, and a weekly visit to the hairdresser were all part of her routine. Joy also loved a good conversation, an art at which she excelled with humor and wit up until her death. Joy will be dearly missed by her family and friends and those who had the opportunity to know her over the years. She was truly an inspiration, and a joy.

Survivors include her sons Bruce Stuart and his wife Kathy; Craig Stuart and wife Bobbie; sister Lisa Sandford and her son Danny; grandchildren Emily, Paige, Keena, Chris, Zepher, and great-grandchildren Nicole and Brian.

All are welcome to share in a celebration of Joy's life on Saturday, March 15, at 11 a.m. at the Vineyard Playhouse on Church street in Vineyard Haven. Donations in Joy's name may be made to The Vineyard Playhouse, P.O. Box 2452, Vineyard Haven MA 02568.

Community to host fundraiser for father with brain cancer

By JOSH STILTS / Reformer Staffreformer.com

Monday June 25, 2012

WILMINGTON -- When Michael and Joanne Crosier found out they were going to have their third child last year the couple thought it was a miracle.

At age 40, Joanne thought the possibility of more children was impossible, but when their daughter Addison arrived she brought an unimaginable amount of joy, something the family needs now, as her father most likely won't be able to see her grow up.

On May 16, Michael went to Southwestern Vermont Medical Center in Bennington with what he thought was a severe sinus infection. Doctors however, quickly revealed it was something far more serious. Michael was diagnosed with a stage-4 non-curable glioblastoma, a form of aggressive brain cancer.

"I didn't even have time to think about what they had told me," Michael said. "The next thing I knew I was in the ambulance on my way to Dartmouth."

It took a team of 15 doctors more than eight hours to remove the two-inch tumor, but it had spread to throughout the left frontal lobe of his brain, the parts that control speech, emotion and motor function.

Doctors said he could have anywhere between four weeks to four years, but eventually the cancer would return. However, Michael is determined to defy the odds.

"I'm getting 10 years," Michael said. "And it's because of my family, friends and this community." With their father in the hospital, 18-year-old Kody, 14-year-old Alec and 9-month-old Addison became the pillars of strength for the family.

Kody, who chose to attend Greenfield Community College this fall to become a firefighter and EMT instead of a school farther away, told his mother she didn't have a choice, that he was going to be at his father's side while he was in the hospital.

"He's my best friend," Kody said. "We do a lot together, he's always been there for me so I wanted to be there for him."

Every weekend Michael would take Kody and Alec to play paintball or to race remote controlled cars in Connecticut or Massachusetts.

Generation 7 (con't)

In his weakened condition, paintball is out of the question, but he can still pull back the trigger and let his car zoom around the track.

On Father's Day, the three of them spent the afternoon winning trophies for racing at RC Madness in Enfield, Conn.

Alec, who has always had a strong bond with his new sister, stayed with her and a family friend so that Joanne could be with Michael as well.

"They're inseparable," Joanne said of Alec and Addison. "When we found out we were going to have another child, Alec enrolled himself in the baby-sitting course, infant CPR and has fed her and changed her when needed."

Addison's role, although she may not know it, is the glue of the family.

"She makes us smile every day," Joanne said. "She's helping us stay together as a family."

Michael said that looking at her reminds him of when his two sons were that age, which immediately brings a smile to his face.

"She's good medicine," he said.

While Michael was in the hospital dozens of family members and friends offered their help and to visit, and their sister-in-law, Jill Maynard, was there from the beginning.

Maynard, a nurse who was on-duty at the hospital in Bennington the night Michael was admitted, provided translation for medical jargon and was able to ask doctors questions about his condition.

"It allowed me to focus on Mike instead of having to worry about what this or that meant and looking up what it meant later," Joanne said. "She also kept everyone in the loop through Facebook so I didn't have to. She provided a huge relief."

And since Michael's diagnosis, the family has relief and support from numerous community members, she said.

Next month friends and family members will hold a fundraising event, on July 14, to help the family pay for the costs associated with Michael's treatment.

"Our community has been beyond unbelievable," Joanne said. "We're getting bills that we can already pay because of the donations from loving people in this area."

One of those people, Liz Fernot, has set up donation jars at several gas stations in the Deerfield Valley, organized the family's bills so that each gets taken care of on time and set up a dinner train where nearly every night a meal is prepared for the family so they don't have to cook.

"Not having to cook and being able to just focus on my family is amazing," Joanne said. "It's nice to know we're not alone in this because it feels like a time where it could be easy to be alone. I'm so glad we live where we do in this community. There's hundreds of people who have our back."

For years Michael delivered heating oil and got to know just about everyone in Wilmington.

Whenever he saw a person whose car was having trouble or needed help, he reached out to lend a hand.

"I see now that it's being paid back," he said. "People are bending over backwards to help us out."

His boss, Guy E. Nido, has also been instrumental in his battle, Michael said.

"He's been at the house everyday making sure I'm OK," Michael said. "He's the best boss I've ever had and could ever ask for. Guy's been like a father figure to me."

Younger Generation Take to the Air

It is no longer news when some Sprague employee is heard over the air from one of our local stations. That happens quite frequently. But now, the younger generation, not to be outdone by their elders, are also making air debuts. Such is the case of Cynthia Jane Crosier, 11 year old daughter of Fred Crosier of the Engineering Specification Department, and Donald Filiault, 11 year old son of "Mac" Filiault of Sample Laboratory, Marshall Plant. Cynthia and Donald have been on the air Saturday mornings over WMNB -• and expect to continue for several future Saturdays. Cynthia plays the piano, and Donald sings . . . and from the standpoint of this listener, both do a remarkably fine job.
